

OUR MISCARRIAGE

Damien Stednitz

I sat staring out to the sea and I could see you and me everything we would ever say and our child, drifting, washed away leaving only a boy on the beach holding onto a girl out of reach wishes we can never see words we can never say hearts we can never teach

“Our Miscarriage” © 2006 by Damien Stednitz

Contemporary Rhyme Vol. 3 No. 2 Spring 2006