

RAPTORS

Bryce Christensen

On days Air Force jets flew over our home,
My son looked up to see profiles of toys.
He called out their names, recognizing some
He'd pilot in play, mimicking their noise:
Hawks soar too high to cast shadows on boys.

"Raptors" © 2007 by Bryce Christensen

Contemporary Rhyme Vol. 4 No. 4 2007