

SO MANY THINGS I SHOULD BE DOING

Clare Kirwan

So many things I should be doing;
Shopping, polishing, shampooing,
Decorating, painting, screwing,
Shortcrusting, filo-ing, chouxing,
Eating, drinking, pissing, pooing,
Underachieving, overdoing,
But here I am, just me and you-ing.

So many things I should be doing;
Swimming, gyming or kung fuing,
Surfing, googling, yahooing,
Saving, formatting, undoing,
Limericking and haiku-ing,
Aspidestra-ing, bamboosing,
But here I am, just me and you-ing.

So many things I should be doing;
Monkeying about, Typhooing,
Larking, barking, bally-hooing,
Tying knots, maybe, lassoing,
Ducking, bearing, kangarooing,
Hunting, shooting, JR Ewing,
But here I am, just me and you-ing.

So many things I should be doing;
Harry Pottering, You-Know-Who-ing,
Wine-ing, ale-ing, Malibu-ing,
Chestering, Nantwiching, Creweing,
On the stage with no-one booing,
Or just one-two, one-two, one-two-ing,
But here I am, just me and you-ing.

So many things I should be doing;
Going, coming, froing, toing,
Measure for measuring, much adoing.
But here I am, just me and you-ing.

“So Many Things I Should Be Doing” © 2007 by Clare Kirwan

Contemporary Rhyme Vol. 4 No. 1 2007